AN IMPORTANT AMENDMENT OF THE PATENT LAW, has been reported by the Patent Committee, with the assent of the Senate.
It affects all existing patents, as well as those to be hereafter granted.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that the Committee, after carefully considering the subject, submitted the bill to the Secretary of the Commission of Patents and several of the Judges of the Supreme Court, under whose advice it was perfected and presented to the Senate. It is objected to protect the public on the one hand against the exercise of invalid patents, and the really monstrous usurper from the practice of the dishonest infringers. It is held that many patents are now void, and yet the public submit to them rather than incur the cost of litigation.

Under this bill patents may be renewed once for all, and the public may be relieved. Now, it is assumed, thousands of patents are issued, which, being of no value, themselves stand in the way of really valuable inventions. Under this act all such patents will go out of existence in five years, and thus cease to block the way of other more valuable. Patents under the existing law, are extended to twenty-one years by the Commissioner of Patents, and now Congress is applied for further extension.

Under the proposed bill all patents are issued for five years in the first place, and may then be extended fifteen years more, at the option of the inventor. In all, twenty years after which no extension can be had, thus relieving the Commissioner and Congress from the vexation of extensions. In order to finally settle the question of extensions, and to deal equally with all inventors, all patents are to be placed upon the same platform. No patent is to be granted under the bill, and subject to the same process for repeal by any one who may be injured by them. Under the present law no patent is allowed for inventions produced in another country, in consequence of which foreign inventors find their way very slowly here, but the proposed bill allows a foreign inventor to introduce his foreign invention.
Thus, it is thought, will afford American inventors an incentive to go abroad and acquire a knowledge of secret arts which now give preference to their own countrymen.

The report of the Committee is unanimous, and every member of the Union is represented in it, as follows: Messrs. James, Rhode Island, Thompson, Maine, Evans, (South Carolina), Thompson, Kentucky, Brown, Mississippi, and Stuart, Michigan.

New Hampshire. The Portsmouth Herald states that in all parts of the State, the opponents of the administration are almost uniformly in favor of Col. Fremont's re-election for the Presidency. At the State Convention at Plymouth last Tuesday, all the speakers expressed their preference for him and the opinion that his nomination would be the most popular with the people of that State could be made.
All the delegates to the New York Convention elected by the Council will give their influence and voice in his behalf.

After much delay, we present our readers with an Extra containing the Public Laws passed by the Legislature. They are from the press of Russell, Watson, & Co., of Augusta.

The City Guards (young men) were out last night for drill and made a very creditable appearance.

Know Nothing Convention at Harrisburg.
Harrisburg, May 13. Mr. Edw. presented at the afternoon meeting. General Small offered resolutions ratifying the nomination of Fremont and Donelson, denouncing the administration for repelling the Kansas Compromise, and condemning the Kansas-Nebraska act as outrage on the people.

Gov. Johnson offered a substitute, approving the action of the delegates who returned from the Philadelphia Convention, and calling a convention at New York on the 12th of June.

After debate the substitute was rejected, and the resolution adopted by a vote of 32 to 22.
Gov. Johnson and 14 others, Edgemoor, &c., then retired.

Mr. Edw. moved a reconsideration, in order to give Mr. Edgemoor time to get right on the
